

SUNFLAKES AND SNOWSHINE

. . . and other good things

New Canadian Children's Books From SCHOLASTIC

Six colourful new children's titles continue SCHOLASTIC's practice of bringing the best in Canadian children's reading in popular, affordable paperback.

SEPTEMBER

SUNFLAKES AND SNOWSHINE by Fran Newman, illustrated in full-colour by Claudette Boulanger. Selected as one of the 8 best picture books of the year by the Canadian Children's Book Centre, this colourful "hang-up" book illustrates the changing seasons in Canada with striking illustrations and lively poetry. For ages 5-9. $1.05

THE UNWANTED ADVENTURE OF HAROLD GREENHOUSE by Mike Wilkins. Four-colour illustrations by Roy Condy. This zany adventure/mystery for younger readers will set children chuckling time and again. For ages 5-8. $1.35

THE ODD-LOT BOYS AND THE TREE-FORT WAR by J. Robert Janes, illustrated by Affie Mohammed. The boys have a great tree-fort in the back of the vacant lot. But the lot is for sale and the real estate developer hates kids. For ages 9-11. $1.05

OCTOBER

SWORD OF EGYPT by Bert Williams, line drawings by Laszlo Gal. This action-packed historical fiction thriller takes readers back to the court of the Pharaoh in ancient Thebes. For ages 9-11. $1.05

SEVEN BEARS by Sir Charles G.D. Roberts, illustrated by Ken MacDougall. Here in a lively new paperback format are seven of Sir Charles G.D. Roberts' best-loved stories about bears set off by beautiful new illustrations. For ages 9-12. $1.05

NOVEMBER

CAPTIVES OF CAULDRON CAVE by Dorothy Powell. Adventure, romance and the sport of "caving" form the background for an exciting adventure when Robyn sets out to find four Great Danes missing in the B.C. wilderness. For ages 10-14. $1.05

SCHOLASTIC BOOK SERVICES,
123 Newkirk Rd., Richmond Hill,
Ontario. L4C 3G5.

